Hi,

I have a response to Question 37 for your consideration.

In section 2.6 Publish Data on Traders and Licensees (online portal of registers),

Question 37 asks: What information should be kept confidential?

My response is: The actual address of the licence holder should not be listed, publish the suburb or town/city, but not the full residential address.

Too much information can lead to identity theft and security risk for the licence holders' premises.
