Exceptional circumstances

An exemption may only be granted if it is, in the exceptional circumstances of the case, in the public interest to do so. "Exceptional circumstances" must be more than "special circumstances" to satisfy the requirements under section 10 (2) of the Retail Trading Act 2008. For guidance on the test for "exceptional circumstances", refer to Dwyer v Department of Services, Technology and Administration and Kmart Australia Limited [2010] NSWADT 312.

Specify the exceptional circumstances in support of your exemption application for the shop and restricted trading day:

We are a family owned independent convenience store operating under the Supa IGA banner. Our store is situated within a tourist destination inclusive of restaurants which will be trading throughout the Easter long Weekend. Our store provides services which enhance the offer of the Tramsheds site benefiting the other small business in the Tramsheds center.

Public interest

To help determine whether the exemption sought is in the public interest, answer the following questions:

1. What is the nature of the shop and kinds of goods sold?

We are a convenience store that will provide local residents and tourists with fresh foods to compliment customer experiences before and after they visit the restaurants and small businesses within the Tramsheds Center.

2. Why does the shop need to be kept open on the restricted trading day?

We believe without our store remaining open to support the other small business, there will be a negative financial impact due to less foot traffic through the Tramsheds Center.

3. What is the likely effect on the local economy, tourism, small businesses and other businesses in the area if the exemption is granted?

If the exemption is granted we believe that this will positively impact the volume of business brought to the Tramsheds Center, restaurants and other small businesses.

4. What is the likely effect on employees or persons working in the shop if the exemption is granted?

[In your response indicate the number of employees likely to work on the restricted trading day if an exemption is granted, and specify the industrial instrument/s (including agreement number/s), under which employees working on the day will be employed]

We are a small family owned and operated business which will provide a number of our employees additional income on these two extra trading days. For example University and restricted visa students that will receive higher than normal rate of pay on these days.

Note. Regard will be had to each of the matters listed above in determining whether the exemption sought is in the public interest. This application will be put on public exhibition.

It is an offence to fail to comply with any conditions imposed on an exemption.
